NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

JUNE 30, 2010

Note A - Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements of Food Technology Service, Inc. (the "Company," "we" or "our") have been prepared in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the instructions to Form 10-Q and, therefore, do not include all information and footnotes normally included in financial statements prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. These interim financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statements and notes included in the Company's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2009.

In the opinion of management, these financial statements reflect all adjustments, including normal recurring adjustments, necessary for a fair presentation of the financial position as of June 30, 2010, and the results of operations and cash flows for the interim periods presented. Operating results for the six-month period ended June 30, 2010, are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the full year. We have evaluated subsequent events for recognition or disclosure through the date this Form 10-Q is filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Note B - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A summary of the Company's significant accounting policies consistently applied in the preparation of the accompanying financial statements follows:

1. Nature of Business

The Company was organized in December 1985 and is engaged in the business of operating a gamma irradiation facility using Cobalt 60 for the sterilization of medical, surgical, pharmaceutical and packaging materials. It also disinfects fruits, vegetables and meat products which extends their shelf life.

2. Use of Estimates

Management uses estimates and assumptions in preparing financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. These estimates and assumptions affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and the reported revenues and expenses. Actual results could vary from the estimates that were assumed in preparing the financial statements.

3. Revenue Recognition

The primary source of revenue is from treating products with Cobalt. Net Revenue is the gross income from such processing less allowances, if any. Revenues are recorded after the Company's performance obligation is completed and product has been processed in accordance with the customer's specifications and collection of the resulting receivable is probable. A provision is made for doubtful accounts which historically have not been significant.

4. Property, Plant and Equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost. Assets other than Cobalt have been depreciated using the straight-line method over the following lives for both financial statement and tax purposes:

Building	31.5 years
Furniture and Equipment	5-15 Years

The total cost basis of Cobalt has been depreciated using engineering estimates from published tables under which one-half of the remaining value is written off over 5.26 year periods.

Estimated useful lives are periodically reviewed and if warranted, changes will be made resulting in acceleration of depreciation.

MDS Nordion is the Company's supplier of Cobalt 60 and has agreed to accept the return of all Cobalt 60 that has reached the end of its useful life; therefore, the Company has provided no environmental remediation liability for the disposal of the Cobalt 60.

5. Cash and Cash Equivalents

All highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less are considered to be cash and cash equivalents.

6. Concentration of Credit Risk

The Company maintains its cash in three financial institutions. The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation insures up to $250,000 per legal entity per financial institution until December 31, 2013. At June 30, 2010, the uninsured cash balance was $592,476.

7. Net Income Per Share

Basic net income per share is computed using the weighted average number of common shares outstanding. Diluted net income per share is computed by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding, plus the effect of common stock equivalents that are dilutive.

8. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The carrying value of cash, accounts receivable, prepaid expenses, deposits, accounts payable, accrued liabilities approximate fair value.

FOOD TECHNOLOGY SERVICE, INC.

Note B - Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (continued)

9. Stock Option Plans

The Company has various stock option plans for employees and other individuals providing services to or serving as Directors of the Company. (See Note D)

Compensation cost under the plans is recognized using the fair value recognition provisions of FASB ASC 718. Such cost is recognized for shares expected to vest on a straight-line basis over the requisite service period of the award using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model.

10. Reclassification

Certain reclassifications have been made to the prior year's financial statements to conform to the current year's presentation.

Note C - Lines of Credit

The Company has a letter of credit of $600,000 through MDS Nordion to satisfy the requirements under the Radioactive Materials License from the State of Florida. The letter of credit is guaranteed by MDS Nordion and is collateralized by the Company's warehouse facility. The Company agreed to reimburse MDS Nordion for the associated expenses relating to the letter of credit. The letter of credit bears interest at prime plus 1%. As of June 30, 2010 the letter of credit is still active with a $0 balance.

The Company has a separate line of credit available for the short term capital needs of the Company with Magnify Credit Union for $300,000. The line of credit is secured by the Company's warehouse and bears interest at the Wall Street Journal prime plus 1%. As of June 30, 2010 the Company has not used the line of credit.

Note D - Income Taxes and Available Tax Loss Carryforwards

As of June 30, 2010, the Company had income tax net operating loss ("NOL") carryforward for federal income tax purposes of approximately $4,426,751. The NOL will expire in various years ending through the year 2022. The benefits of NOL carryforward for the three months ended June 30, 2010 and 2009 were $104,500 and $132,163, respectively. The benefits of NOL carryforward for the six months ended June 30, 2010 and 2009 were $190,100 and $63,052, respectively.

The components of the provision for income taxes attributable to operations are as follows:

Deferred income taxes reflect the net tax effects of the temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for income tax purposes. Significant components of the Company's deferred tax assets are as follows:

	As of June 30, 2010		As of December 31, 2009
	Current	Non-Current	Current	Non-Current

The change in the valuation allowance is as follows:

December 31, 2009	$ 542,000
June 30, 2010	542,000

Change in valuation allowance	$ -

A valuation allowance has been established to eliminate the net deferred tax benefit due to uncertainty as to whether the tax benefits would ever be realized. During 2009, as a result of the continuing diversification and growth in customer base, ongoing profits from operations and the Company's revised estimate of future taxable income, it was concluded that it is more likely than not that future taxable income will be sufficient to realize a larger portion of the Company's deferred asset.

FOOD TECHNOLOGY SERVICE, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Note D - Income Taxes and Available Tax Loss Carryforwards (continued)

The Company believes that its estimate of future operations is conservative and reasonable, but inherently uncertain. Accordingly, if future operations generate taxable income greater than the projections, further adjustments to reduce the reserve are possible. Conversely, if the Company realizes unforeseen material losses in the future and its future projections of income decrease, the allowance could be increased resulting in a charge to income.

Income taxes for the periods ended June 30, 2010 and 2009 differ from the amounts computed by applying the effective income tax rates of 37.63% and 37.63%, respectively, to income before income taxes as a result of the following:

Note F - Related Party Transactions (continued)

The Company has recently purchased the following Cobalt from MDS Nordion:

2008	200,000	470,688

Note G - Earnings Per Share

Earnings per share is calculated in accordance with ASC 260-10, "Earnings Per Share". Basic earnings per share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the years. Diluted earnings per share reflects the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common shares were exercised or converted into common shares. Common share equivalents are excluded from the computation of diluted earnings per share if their effects would be anti-dilutive.

ASC 260-10 requires the presentation of both Basic EPS and Diluted EPS on the face of the Company's Statements of Operations.

The following table sets forth the computation of basic and diluted per share information:

	Three Months Ended		Six Months Ended
	June 30,		June 30,
	2010	2009	2010	2009
	-----	-----	-----	-----
Numerator:
Net Income	$ 171,469	$ 165,296	$ 313,460	$ 347,798
Denominator:
Weighted average common shares outstanding	2,756,458	2,756,458	2,756,458	2,756,458
Dilutive effect of stock options	71,500	83,000	71,500	83,000

Weighted average common shares outstanding, assuming dilution	2,827,958	2,839,458	2,827,958	2,839,458

Potential common shares from out of the money options were excluded from the computation of diluted EPS because calculation of the associated potential common shares have an anti-dilutive effect on EPS. The following table lists options that were excluded from EPS.

Note I - Recent Accounting Pronouncements

Adoption of New Accounting Standards

In May 2009, the FASB issued FASB ASC 855-10-05, "Subsequent Events", which requires companies to evaluate events and transactions that occur after the balance sheet date but before the date the financial statements are issued, or available to be issued in the case of non-public entities. FASB ASC 855-10-05 requires entities to recognize in the financial statements the effect of all events or transactions that provide additional evidence of conditions that existed at the balance sheet date, including the estimates inherent in the financial preparation process. Entities shall not recognize the impact of enters or transactions that provide evidence about conditions that did not exist at the balance sheet date but arose after that date. FASB

ASC 855-10-05, also requires entities to disclose the date through which subsequent events have been evaluated. FASB ASC 855-10-05 is effective for the interim and annual reporting periods ending after June 15, 2009. We adopted the provisions of FASB ASC 855-10-05 for the year ended December 31, 2009, as required, the adoption did not have a material impact on our financial statements.

In June 2009, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 168, "The FASB Accounting Standards Codification and the Hierarchy of Generally Accepted Accounting Principles - a replacement of FASB Statement No. 162" ("The Codification"). The Codification reorganized existing U.S. accounting and reporting standards issued by the FASB and other related private sector standard setters into a single source of authoritative accounting principles arranged by topic. The Codification supersedes all existing U.S. accounting standards; all other accounting literature not included in the Codification (other than Securities and Exchange Commission guidance for publicly-traded companies) is considered non-authoritative. The Codification was effective on a prospective basis for interim and annual reporting periods ending after September 15, 2009. The adoption of the Codification changed the Company's references to U.S. GAAP accounting standards but did not impact the Company's financial statements.

Note J - Subsequent Events

The Company will no longer use MDS Nordion to provide the letter of credit of $600,000 to satisfy the requirement under the Radioactive Materials License from the State of Florida. Subsequent to June 30, 2010, the Company negotiated with their financial institution to obtain a letter of credit for $600,000 and will use the Company's assets to secure the letter of credit.

Subsequent to June 30, 2010, the Company purchased 105,000 curies of Cobalt from MDS Nordion for approximately $82,000.

PART II

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Food Technology Service Inc. had revenues of $761,230 during the second quarter of 2010 compared to revenues of $652,724 for the same period in 2009. This is an increase of approximately 16.4 percent. The Company had net income before taxes during the second quarter of 2010 of $277,624 compared to net income of $165,926 during the second quarter of 2009. This is an increase of approximately 67.3 percent. For the first half of 2010, the Company had revenues of $1,423,054 and net income before taxes of $505,215. Revenues during the first half of 2009 were $1,327,554 and the Company had net income before taxes of $347,798. Revenues increased by about 7.2 percent and net income before taxes increased by approximately 45.3 percent in the first half of 2010 compared to the same period in 2009.

The Company's statement of operations reflects non-cash deferred income tax expense for the three months ended June 30, 2010 in the amount of $104,500. In reporting periods prior to December 31, 2009, the Company had presented income tax expense with a corresponding benefit as management continued to reduce its valuation allowance for the deferred tax asset. For reporting periods after December 31, 2009, management discontinued reducing the valuation allowance resulting in a non-cash expense for income taxes. This resulted in net income during the second quarter of 2010 of $173,124 versus net income of $165,296 during the second quarter of 2009. Similarly, the Company's statement of operations reflects non-cash deferred income tax expense for the six months ended June 30, 2010 in the amount of $190,100, with net income of $315,115 during the first half of 2010 versus $347,798 during the same period of 2009.

Included in revenue for the second quarter and first half of 2009 is a settlement fee of $85,229 relating to the termination of a warehouse lease with a former customer. Without the settlement fee, revenue from operations for the second quarter and first half of 2009 would have been $567,495 and $1,242,325 respectively. Cost comparisons in the following paragraphs are presented both with and without the lease settlement revenue.

During the second quarter of 2010, processing costs as a percentage of sales were 17.6 percent. This compares to 17.1 percent with the lease settlement revenue and 19.6 percent without such revenue during the second quarter of 2009. These costs are relatively fixed and the slight decrease in 2010 reflects less processing time required for the revenue replacing that from the lost customer. General administrative and development costs as a percentage of sales during the second quarter of 2010 were 34.1 percent. This compares to 41.4 percent with the lease settlement revenue and 47.7 percent without such revenue in the second quarter of 2009. These costs are also relatively fixed and the decline in general, administrative and development expenses, as a percentage of sales, is primarily due to the increased sales.

During the first half of 2010, processing costs as a percentage of sales were 17.5 percent. This compares to 17.6 percent with the lease settlement revenue and 18.9 percent without such revenue in the first half of 2009. Again, these costs are relatively fixed. General, administrative and development costs as a percentage of sales were 34.3 percent during the first half of 2010. This compares to 40.3 percent during the first half of 2009 with the lease settlement revenue and 43.1 percent during the first half of 2009 without such revenue. The 2009 percentages were slightly elevated by the cost of roof renovations but generally reflect the fixed nature of these costs and the increase in revenue.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of June 30, 2010, the Company has cash on hand of $1,187,094 and accounts receivable of $301,349.
